

"HALL" OF AMERICA

THE HOME
PAPER
OF BOSTON

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
Weather Forecast: Fair To-day.

FIFTH EDITION

VOL. 7—No. 80. BOSTON, THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1910. PRICE ONE CENT.

PROBLEM OF SCHOOL BY LEGISLATURE

The suicide of John Newman, the fourteen-year-old Cambridge boy who hanged himself at the Lyman School, is to be officially investigated by the Massachusetts House of Representatives. This action was decided upon by the House to-day when the order calling for investigation of the events leading up to the lad's death was adopted by a rising vote of 65 to 48.

LONG DEBATE OVER THE RESOLUTION.

For an hour and a half today would not the measure stand as from a time, the members of the House, who had been given a brief hearing at the hearing, while others were in the audience, of the school, its trustees and officials, representative of the House, who favored the order, asserted that he had viewed the body of the youth, and that evidence indicated that he had been shamefully abused.

Representative Charles D. Smith, of the House of Representatives, who had been given a brief hearing at the hearing, while others were in the audience, of the school, its trustees and officials, representative of the House, who favored the order, asserted that he had viewed the body of the youth, and that evidence indicated that he had been shamefully abused.

Representative Charles D. Smith, of the House of Representatives, who had been given a brief hearing at the hearing, while others were in the audience, of the school, its trustees and officials, representative of the House, who favored the order, asserted that he had viewed the body of the youth, and that evidence indicated that he had been shamefully abused.

Representative Charles D. Smith, of the House of Representatives, who had been given a brief hearing at the hearing, while others were in the audience, of the school, its trustees and officials, representative of the House, who favored the order, asserted that he had viewed the body of the youth, and that evidence indicated that he had been shamefully abused.

Representative Charles D. Smith, of the House of Representatives, who had been given a brief hearing at the hearing, while others were in the audience, of the school, its trustees and officials, representative of the House, who favored the order, asserted that he had viewed the body of the youth, and that evidence indicated that he had been shamefully abused.

Representative Charles D. Smith, of the House of Representatives, who had been given a brief hearing at the hearing, while others were in the audience, of the school, its trustees and officials, representative of the House, who favored the order, asserted that he had viewed the body of the youth, and that evidence indicated that he had been shamefully abused.

Little Joe Dowling and Sister at Home Again

Small photo by Boston American staff photographer of girl who was missing three days.

'Lost' Child RETURNED TO FOSTER HOME

LONDON, June 8.—St. George's News, a London newspaper, has received word from the police that a young girl, who was missing for three days, has been found and returned to her foster home.

LONDON, June 8.—St. George's News, a London newspaper, has received word from the police that a young girl, who was missing for three days, has been found and returned to her foster home.

LONDON, June 8.—St. George's News, a London newspaper, has received word from the police that a young girl, who was missing for three days, has been found and returned to her foster home.

WITNESS DECLARES REAL "JOHN R. MARSHALL" Sent Money to Coleman—Funds Given to Him by "Big Bill" Kelher.

John R. Marshall, the mysterious "real estate dealer" who formerly had offices at No. 6 Beacon street, No. 30 Huntington avenue and at No. 110 States street, telegraphed $200 to George W. Coleman when the fleeing bank clerk was in Kansas City, according to the sworn testimony of John A. Cuniff, a Boston tailor, in the trial of "Big Bill" Kelher to-day.

SAYS CASH WAS FURNISHED BY KELHER.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

The cash was furnished by Kelher, says the witness, who declared that he had seen the money being handed over to Coleman by Kelher.

ONE DEAD BY A LEAP OFF LINER

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

A third steamerway on the Whitefish, which was used in an effort to secure by the water route, will likewise be reported. There were three steamerways from South America on the Whitefish.

THE WEATHER. Fair to-day. BOSTON, THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1910. PRICE ONE CENT.

|                                                           |                     |      |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|------|
| values ever offered and cheaper than any other straw hat. | $3.75 PANAMAS      | 2.50 |
|                                                           | $6 and $8 PANAMAS | 3.75 |
|                                                           | $7.50 PANAMAS      | 5.00 |
| "Truly Warner" Straw Hats, all styles                     |                     | 2.00 |

_____

EOPERS, RUN DOWN, FLY REACH ALTAR

After being pursued and overtaken in Boston by angry relatives, Miss Jessie Orr, a woman of East Weymouth, and Edgar Buffum of Newark, N. J., have successfully carried out their elopement plans. News came today from Newark that they have been married in that city by Mayor Housinger.

Miss Buffum is the daughter of Edward Orr, a mechanic in the Brooklyn shop of the United Shoe Machinery Company. He recently married a second wife. Young Buffum is the son of a wealthy Newark merchant.

Last Sunday the young people slipped away from their homes and were tracked to relatives in Boston. After a long argument with the relatives, the couple refused to abandon their matrimonial plans and fled to Newark. Buffum's home city where they were wedded. The church at East Weymouth and the Episcopal Church at North Weymouth have officials are hoping that the bride and groom will win their relatives around to reconciliation.

TARIFF RATING ON CANADIAN WOOD PULP

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The treasury department today decided that pulp wood cut on crown lands in the province of Quebec prior to May 1, 1910, are not subject to the tariff on products manufactured from wood. Pulp cut on crown lands in that province after May 1, 1910, are not subject to the tariff on products used in the manufacture of wood pulp except export duty shall be added on an additional duty.

SAMUEL KRESS ON TRIAL AT SALEM

SALEM, June 9.—The trial of Samuel Kress, charged with bribery in the famous Bowersfield case, of the administration of the city of Lawrence, was held on this afternoon before Judge Bell in the Superior Criminal Court. The case was set for trial on the suggestion of the district attorney, George H. Lawrence, and the trial of Kress, James A. Hamilton, chief of the Lawrence police department, will be held on Friday.

WICKERSHAM LAW ORATOR AT HARVARD

Attorney General George W. Wickersham will be the chief orator at the celebration to be held here at the Harvard Law School Association in Cambridge on June 10. Wickersham will deliver the oration, and will be followed by the Hon. Charles D. Warren, chief justice of the Massachusetts supreme court, and by the Hon. Charles E. Hughes, chief justice of the New York supreme court.

MUSCLE AND BEAUTY—How the one goes with the other and how to gain and keep both is told by Mrs. Lina Cavallieri in the SUNDAY AMERICAN.

MARINE IS BEATEN BY FOUR IN STREET

Alexander G. Fraser, a marine in the 1st Marine Brigade, was beaten in the street by four men on June 8. Fraser was taken to the City Hospital at Chelsea as the result of a beating given him today by four men, one of whom is alleged to have an alibi. Fraser was taken to the City Hospital at Chelsea as the result of a beating given him today by four men, one of whom is alleged to have an alibi.

DRUG STORE FIRE VICTIM IS DEAD

John J. Wynn of New York was found last Monday in the drug store of John J. Wynn at Church and Temple streets. Wynn had been found in the drug store at the City Hospital. Wynn was not injured at the time of the fire. There was an explosion at the store and Wynn was found in the street.

MALLEY'S COMET DEAD—Camille Flammarion, the famous French astronomer, in the SUNDAY AMERICAN, tells why he thinks it will never be seen again.

PITTSBURG THEATRE TREASURER ARRESTED

PITTSBURG, June 9.—George R. Allison, treasurer of the Grand Opera House, was arrested today on an indictment charging embezzlement. Allison was arrested today on an indictment charging embezzlement.

THE EVENING AMERICAN guarantees to advertisers the largest circulation for any daily newspaper in Boston and over 200,000 more than the next highest evening paper, and over 75,000 more than the next Boston evening paper combined. Circulation opens to all.

35-41 WINTER STREET JUST 76 SILK PETTICOATS TO THE FIRST 76 WOMEN $2.98

Is the Price NOW They were $8, 4.98 and 5.98

These petticoats are made of guaranteed taffeta silk with wide wavy and edge finish in three styles. All lengths and sizes. In all colors. REMEMBER, ONLY 76 IN THIS LOT.

Cotton Petticoats, in black only, all lengths, were selling at $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75, all at one price. 98c

JESSIE ORR OF EAST WEYMOUTH, WHO HAS ELOPED

Up to Midnight, London Time

King George Held First Court To-day.

LONDON—King George held his first court today. The king received the deputations of the city and shire, who presented their annual addresses. The king reacted to their presentation. The act of receiving was followed by the presentation of the official robes, gowns and decorations.

Dog Captures a Lieutenant.

BERLIN—A police dog today at Koenig, an important city of Prussia, captured an army lieutenant, who was late for duty. The dog was named "Koenig" and was a German shepherd.

Connaught Eager for Canada.

LONDON—There is a revival of the notion that the Duke of Connaught will succeed King George as Governor-General of Canada. It is stated that the duke is eager to obtain the appointment.

Stark Neglectful of France.

PARIS—Vital statistics show a decrease in the birth rate in France. The birth rate in 1909 was 27.00 per 1,000, and in 1910 it was 26.00.

King Honors Mme. Rappold.

PARIS—Mme. Marie Rappold, the American actress, through taking a letter from the king, has been honored by the king of Romania.

Army Aero Flight in France.

PARIS—Two army officers today test an aeroblast from Chateau to Vincennes, a distance of 100 miles in 2 hours and 50 minutes. The flight is of special interest to the army.

Two Clementines Collide.

LOVER—The channel packet Princess Clemenceau from Ostend today collided with the Swedish schooner Clementine. The packet was crowded and the passengers were thrown into panic.

Crown Prince Has Toothache.

BERLIN—The Crown Prince is incapacitated by a severe toothache. He is unable to attend to his duties.

Cabrera's Son Trice Suicide.

PRINCETON, N. J.—The son of President Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala recently committed suicide. He was a student at Princeton.

Soldier Killed by Lightning.

ST. PETERSBURG—Lightning struck a soldier in a field today. The soldier was killed instantly.

NEW YORK GIRL TO RULE IN INDIA

LONDON, June 9.—A New York girl is to divide honors in ruling India. The girl is the daughter of a New York family.

SAYS YANKEE GIRL IS THE BEST MOTHER

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—"I deny that the high-spirited, integrated young American mother is other than the finest specimen of the race," said a Frenchman today.

DAINTY SUMMER DRESSES—Lily Duff Gordon, the greatest living creator of fashions, describes models for the summer months in the SUNDAY AMERICAN.

LAKE ERIE STEAMER IN PERIL OF SINKING

CALEDONIA, O., June 9.—A telegram was received at noon from the passenger steamer St. Ignace on Lake Erie, stating that the steamer was in peril.

MURPHY IS NAMED AS BATH TRUSTEE

William M. Murphy of Harold street, North, was named by Mayor Fitzgerald as a trustee of the Bath Trust.

TO-DAY'S CABLE NEWS

Up to Midnight, London Time

King George Held First Court To-day.

LONDON—King George held his first court today. The king received the deputations of the city and shire, who presented their annual addresses. The king reacted to their presentation. The act of receiving was followed by the presentation of the official robes, gowns and decorations.

Dog Captures a Lieutenant.

BERLIN—A police dog today at Koenig, an important city of Prussia, captured an army lieutenant, who was late for duty. The dog was named "Koenig" and was a German shepherd.

Connaught Eager for Canada.

LONDON—There is a revival of the notion that the Duke of Connaught will succeed King George as Governor-General of Canada. It is stated that the duke is eager to obtain the appointment.

Stark Neglectful of France.

PARIS—Vital statistics show a decrease in the birth rate in France. The birth rate in 1909 was 27.00 per 1,000, and in 1910 it was 26.00.

King Honors Mme. Rappold.

PARIS—Mme. Marie Rappold, the American actress, through taking a letter from the king, has been honored by the king of Romania.

Army Aero Flight in France.

PARIS—Two army officers today test an aeroblast from Chateau to Vincennes, a distance of 100 miles in 2 hours and 50 minutes. The flight is of special interest to the army.

Two Clementines Collide.

LOVER—The channel packet Princess Clemenceau from Ostend today collided with the Swedish schooner Clementine. The packet was crowded and the passengers were thrown into panic.

Crown Prince Has Toothache.

BERLIN—The Crown Prince is incapacitated by a severe toothache. He is unable to attend to his duties.

Cabrera's Son Trice Suicide.

PRINCETON, N. J.—The son of President Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala recently committed suicide. He was a student at Princeton.

Soldier Killed by Lightning.

ST. PETERSBURG—Lightning struck a soldier in a field today. The soldier was killed instantly.

NEW YORK GIRL TO RULE IN INDIA

LONDON, June 9.—A New York girl is to divide honors in ruling India. The girl is the daughter of a New York family.

SAYS YANKEE GIRL IS THE BEST MOTHER

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—"I deny that the high-spirited, integrated young American mother is other than the finest specimen of the race," said a Frenchman today.

DAINTY SUMMER DRESSES—Lily Duff Gordon, the greatest living creator of fashions, describes models for the summer months in the SUNDAY AMERICAN.

LAKE ERIE STEAMER IN PERIL OF SINKING

CALEDONIA, O., June 9.—A telegram was received at noon from the passenger steamer St. Ignace on Lake Erie, stating that the steamer was in peril.

MURPHY IS NAMED AS BATH TRUSTEE

William M. Murphy of Harold street, North, was named by Mayor Fitzgerald as a trustee of the Bath Trust.

BABES CRY FOR LOST FATHER

When Edward J. McKenna saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

EDWARD MCKENNA, COME HOME IF YOU SEE THIS PICTURE

When Edward J. McKenna saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

His mother wept when she saw the picture of his two little boys, perhaps he will regret and return to his wife and children. As last night in the home of Mrs. Edward J. McKenna of 344 Bay Street, Cambridge.

McKenna left home two weeks ago, leaving a note which simply said, "I have gone away."

BARS CROOKED NAMES ON STRAIGHT TICKET

When it is a question of putting one's hand in the public's purse, the plain discipline of party and partisanship is laid off. As a good Republican of long standing, as well as I know here, the straight ticket, the only straight ticket I can vote in is the one with the crooked names all scratched off from it. And if by chance my choice lies between crooked names, I give my preference to the Democrat, that my own party may be relieved from the disgrace of its election.—President David Starr Jordan to Seaside College students.

When it is a question of putting one's hand in the public's purse, the plain discipline of party and partisanship is laid off. As a good Republican of long standing, as well as I know here, the straight ticket, the only straight ticket I can vote in is the one with the crooked names all scratched off from it. And if by chance my choice lies between crooked names, I give my preference to the Democrat, that my own party may be relieved from the disgrace of its election.—President David Starr Jordan to Seaside College students.

When it is a question of putting one's hand in the public's purse, the plain discipline of party and partisanship is laid off. As a good Republican of long standing, as well as I know here, the straight ticket, the only straight ticket I can vote in is the one with the crooked names all scratched off from it. And if by

SPERRY & HUTCHINSON
TRADING STAMP
NEW YORK CITY

We Reserve the Right to Refuse Mail, C.O.D. and Telephone Orders on Friday Advertised Specials. These Are Special for Friday (Tomorrow) Only—Not on Sale Today.

JEFF TO FIGHT BATTLE OF LIFE AGAINST JOHNSON

Dr. Ady MEDICAL & SURGICAL SPECIALTIES
1011 Columbia Ave., Phone 1011
MINN. 1011

Lobb, Bates & Yerxa Co.
AND GROCERS EVERYWHERE.

BOSTON AMERICAN Never Again

BUT THIS COULDN'T HAPPEN IN HINGHAM

By T. E. POWERS

Copyright, 1910, by American Journal Company

80 AND 82 SUMMIT ST., BOSTON, JUNE 9, 1910

Mr. Lodge's Friends Are Very Much Alarmed

That is Why His Enemies Are Cross-Examining Republican Condi-
dents for the Legislature

Republican politicians are really alarmed over the rumored alliance of insurgent members of their party and Democrats for the purpose of defeating Senator Henry Cabot Lodge for re-election. They have tried to pooh-pooh the idea. They have laughed at it and sneered at it and pretended to be not a bit worried about it. But, just the same, they are worried.

If they were not alarmed they would not be so anxious to learn the inclinations of men who are mentioned as Republican candidates for next year's Legislature.

Why have the scouts of the Republican State machine been gumshoeing over the State and making inquiries relative to what this man and that man think of the Senator?

In explaining the defeat of the Republican candidate in the Fourteenth Congressional District by Mr. Fox, it is now claimed that "the only Republican in the district who couldn't possibly be elected was nominated."

After making every other kind of an excuse they have finally come down to this one, which is pretty good comfort for the Republican bosses.

They have learned a lesson, however, from the Fourteenth District. The Republicans will make a campaign this Fall that, for thoroughness, has never been approached. There will be no lack of funds to prosecute an exceptionally vigorous campaign all along the line.

Inasmuch as this is the congressional year, they expect to elect their State ticket and the usual number of Congressmen and more than the usual number of members of the General Court.

On Lodge's account the Republican State machine will neglect no district in which there is a possible chance to elect a Lodge man. The way the State machine has been stirring with clubs representing different nationalities is evidence of the kind of campaign that is to be waged.

No matter how much money is put into the Democratic campaign it will be a small amount in comparison with the barrel the Republicans will have. We are afraid that the poor, old, corrupt practices act will be grossly snubbed.

But, returning to the statement that Republicans are scared over the rumored alliance against Lodge, it is amusing to notice the scoldings of the Republican party organs. Take the dear old Transcript, for instance, which says:

"The Fitzgerald scheme will have served a good purpose if it reminds Republican constituents of the duty of electing men to the Legislature who believe in majority rule."

Now notice this delicious bit of inconsistency in another part of the editorial:

"If the Legislature should be made up of 55 per cent. Republicans and 45 per cent. Democrats, it would be an absurdity for the 6 per cent. of this total membership belonging to the Republican insurgent group to name the Senator."

Now silly! The constitution provides that the entire membership of the Legislature shall elect the United States Senator and not the Republican element of the Legislature. And if 6 per cent. of one party unites with 45 per cent. of the other, thereby making 51 per cent., or an electing element, it will be an ideal example of majority rule.

There is an instance of this sort on record at the State House in the election of Henry L. Dawes, Republican, Lodge's predecessor, who at one time, was elected to the United States Senate by a combination of Democrats and Republicans against the regular Republican choice.

When Republican newspapers descend to such silly arguments it is the best proof in the world that the Republican bosses are alarmed over the suggestion of a combination against Lodge in the Legislature.

Very important is the report on night messenger service for boys made by the National Child Labor Committee. This committee includes such men as Felix Adler, John Graham Brooks, Cardinal Gibbons, Judge Kimberly, and—better than any man—Jane Adams.

Denouncing the employment of boys as night messengers, the committee issues a report from which we take the following extracts:

"The study which the National Child Labor Committee has made of the messenger service of the Western Union, the Postal Telegraph and the smaller companies, has shown conclusively that no boy should have a place in the night service."

In a large city in the Middle West the sign of one of the companies doing a national business announces: "Messengers Furnished Day or Night for Any Kind of Service," and a New York up-State city has an enterprising local company with prominent advertisements on large billboards.

"We furnish boys to run errands or to do work of any kind. Single errands, ten cents." One of their street agents, an undersized boy of fourteen years, was eager at 10:30 at night to "show" us the lowest resorts in the city, giving names and street addresses which further investigation would find to be shockingly accurate.

The day messengers do legitimate work, and a bright boy is often given a better pay.

The New York State Legislature, at the recent session, passed an act prohibiting the employment of any person under twenty-one years of age as a night messenger.

The law that was passed by the Legislature of New York State should be passed by every State in the Union.

Night work of all kinds is harmful to children and should be stopped. The combination of the telegraph and the telephone makes it easy to deliver telegraph messages almost everywhere without messengers. A few messengers past twenty-one could be employed to deliver messages that could not go by telephone, and that MUST be delivered immediately.

It is to be hoped that all of the States throughout the Union will have decency enough to protect boys from night work of this kind.

Coldfeets, the Monk By GUS MAGER

Advice to a Wife

By WINIFRED BLACK

MY Dear Winifred Black!—At the early age of eighteen I married my husband. I had many admirers, which he knew.

At twenty-eight I was a mother of five children. I gave up all my friends—girls whom I had graduated with, and others, for his children's welfare, always proved to be a good, thrifty wife and good mother. I have had no children since then. I am now thirty-six years old, my baby is eight years and my eldest sixteen and a half years.

I have done out of phase of amusement, as I feel I am entitled to. I have done out of phase of amusement, as I feel I am entitled to. I have done out of phase of amusement, as I feel I am entitled to.

If I stay in and want to enjoy his company, I must do all the conversing, and in the middle of a song or a piece I am playing he will leave and go to his room.

I am very unhappy with such a life. He has no desire to go anywhere, and I can give an account of every hour he spends.

It is no case of an affinity. Write a touching article. Hoping it will have some effect on him, most sincerely.

"Write a touching article"—I wish I could, my dear M. K., but somehow I am not much touched at this old story.

I know I ought to be, but I am not. Why?

Because you are married to one kind of man, and you are wearing your heart out trying to make him over.

Why do you annoy yourself with him at all? Why don't you make up your mind to him as he is, not as you wish he were?

He would probably like you to be very different from what you are, too. But you go right on being the same. Why do you expect him to change?

You have no control over his disposition. You have a great deal of control over your own disposition.

Would I shut myself up to a lonely, half-starved life just to please the selfish whim of a self-centered man?

I would not. I would let him lead the stupid, dull existence he can lead, and I would be content with it.

He likes solitude and quiet. Give him all he wants of it without one word of criticism or reproach. Make friends of your own. Live your own happy, busy life. And leave him out of it.

Let him stay at home like a good, comfy armchair. Keep him clean and well dressed and don't let the moths get at him. That ends your duty to a man like that.

Your duty to yourself will, of course, prevent you from doing anything silly or impulsive that might make food for gossip. Your children are growing up. They must have a lot of jolly friends. Make friends of their friends. Go out, invite people in, read, laugh, hear good music, interest yourself in other people's doings, and let your selfish husband stay at home and get selfish to his heart's content. If he has anything in him at all he will wake up in time.

If he hasn't, there's no use of your wasting your energies on him.

The Patience of Intelligence

By BOLTON HALL

YESTERDAY I saw one of the "traffic" policemen take the broad shoulders of a street sweeper and with it clear out a puddle from the roadway.

He was in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.

He was not, however, in the middle of the puddle, splashed him and the sweeper could get it swept out.